Google Meet Gridview

We recently added the Google Meet Grid View extension to your school account when signed into Chrome. This guide shows how to use the Gridview. In the last couple of days, it might have stopped working for you. To fix this, simply update Google Chrome and relaunch.

Independent Learning Time: Make use of Google Classroom comments

Following the live video lesson with your teacher, the independent learning time is a chance to have ongoing contact and support from the teacher from the period just finished.

Keep in mind, your teacher will be answering other students' questions, marking work, or dealing with their own household, so teacher responses can't be immediate.

A good way to work collaboratively is to use the Google Classroom comments. The comments under the assignments are viewable by everyone in the class, so as you're working on your module, if you ask a question there and the teacher answers, then everyone can see it.

Has your camera stopped working in Google Meet?

Here are some tips that might get your camera working again...

1. Restart your computer
2. Open Photo Booth to check that your camera is working.
3. If working, try in your Google Meet session.

This has helped a number of students already.

Circuit Breaker Survival Tools

Check out this great survival kit created by Ms Scott. It shouldn't be all schoolwork, there are many things here to help with wellbeing whilst housebound. Thank you, Ms Scott.
